

Chayo Mexican Kitchen + Tequila Bar to Offer Spooktacular Halloween Drink Specials

October 17, 2014 by VegasNews.com

Chayo Mexican Kitchen + Tequila Bar at The LINQ will cast a Halloween spell with an array of flavorful libations, available exclusively on Friday, Oct. 31 (Photo credit: Brian Mannasmith).

The spooktacular concoctions, each priced at $10, include the morgue-arita, a classic margarita made with maraschino cherry syrup and topped with a festive green garnish; the black magic, made with vodka and Triple Sec served over ice with an orange wedge; the black martini, made with black vodka, Blue Curaçao, Bacardi Black Razz and topped with a lemon twist; the el diablo, made with Reposado Tequila, crème de cassis and ginger beer; and the bride of Frankenstein, made with Chambord, sparkling wine and pineapple juice.

Bewitching shot selections include the black widow, made with chilled black vodka, cranberry juice and finished with a cherry and a red sugar rim; the peach death, made with equal parts vodka, peach schnapps and amaretto; the screaming green monster, made with Malibu Rum, Midori Melon Liqueur, Bacardi 151 Rum, pineapple juice and Sierra Mist; and the blood bath, made with tequila and strawberry purée, each priced at $7.

Seasonal featured beers include Magic Hat Wilhelm Scream Pumpkin Ale and Firestone Oaktober, each priced at $7. Syringe shots, priced at $5, will also be available.

Chayo will also host a festive Halloween bash with a DJ spinning later in the evening, a costume contest, décor and more.

Located just steps away from the Las Vegas Strip with direct access from The Quad Resort & Casino, Chayo is situated near the beginning of The LINQ corridor, which leads to the Las Vegas High Roller Observation Wheel, offering unobstructed views of the world's largest observation wheel.
